

Hover board Fails

The new technology craze has also become the latest internet sensation. Hover boards (also known as Swegways) have taken the internet by storm. Many celebrities – like Justin Bieber, Wiz Khalifa and Usain Bolt - have been seen riding these despite them being banned from being used in public in the UK.

One example of an internet sensation is Andrina Sweeney who is 52 from Glasgow falling off one. Her sister Jinty uploaded it to Facebook and since then has had over 350,000 views. Another viral video is Mike Tyson falling off his daughter's hover board.

One of the most famous one's is Mo Khan. He uploaded a video of him riding on his 'magic carpet' and pretending to be Aladdin. This made him an overnight sensation. There's one been uploaded to the internet of someone dressed as Darth Vader falling off.

There's been many videos of Swegway fail compilations uploaded to YouTube that are getting thousands of views and shares.
